Roles and Responsibilities Related to Practical Application

Student Responsibilities

Students must:

- Have the homework journal on the desk at all times during class
- Record all homework in the journal
- Make sure homework is completed and available for correction at the allocated time, in a tidy, legible and organized form
- Make an honest effort to complete all homework assigned to the best of their ability
- Revise work from earlier lessons and focus on keywords if no specific homework is assigned.
- Ask the teacher about any aspect of the homework they are unsure of

- If student is out sick or involved in extra-curricular activities, it is their responsibility to find out and complete homework given in their absence.

Teacher Responsibilities

Teachers are required to:

- Set homework early in the lesson and allow sufficient time for students to take it down
- Have a procedure in place for checking that students record homework accurately and comprehensively in the Journal
- Give guidelines as to what is required for successful completion of homework including an indication of the amount of time that the performance of a particular task should take
- Give students the opportunity to ask for clarification or advice in class
- Ensure that the homework is relevant to the work done in class
- Be mindful of differing levels of ability among students and pitch expectations accordingly.
- Monitor and correct homework and give feedback to students
- Keep records of completed/non-completed homework/ results obtained from various assignments
- Promote independent learning
- Follow the school's agreed procedure for dealing with students who fail to make an honest effort with regard to the satisfactory completion of their homework
- To ensure that homework is not completed during "free" classes. Instead, these classes should be used to promote subject specific learning. Alternatively, time can be given to develop reading skills during these classes

Parent/Guardian Responsibilities:

Homework is an integral part of education and must be included in a daily routine. Parents/guardians play a vital role in providing an appropriate environment. You must ensure that your son's journal is signed on a weekly basis and is checked for communication with teachers.

Routine

A regular homework routine will encourage your son/daughter to view homework as a regular necessary exercise.

Atmosphere

It is vital that an appropriate atmosphere is provided for homework, ideally in a quiet place without distractions. Television, mobile phone, tablets, computer games and such activities should only be available after homework has been completed. Ensure others in the household respect the efforts of your child in doing his/her homework.

A student requires a well ventilated room, with good lighting, a desk/table without clutter, and a comfortable chair.

Parents may also choose the option of sending their son to supervised study in school, which runs every day throughout the year.

Diet and Exercise.

Healthy diet and exercise is essential to maintain and sustain your child's energy and cognitive ability.

Recommendations

Homework is given to students to reinforce what has been taught in class. As students differ so much in terms of their ability and speed of completion of work, it is impossible to be specific as to the amount of time to be spent on a daily basis on homework and revision by each student. However we recommend the following amounts of time for each year group.

- First Year 1½ hours minimum
- Second Year 2½ hours minimum
- Third Year 3½ hours minimum
- Transition Year 1½ hours minimum depending on project work and activities
- Fifth Year 3½ hours minimum
- Sixth Year 3½ hours minimum.

A minimum of 4 hours homework should be done at the weekend in all year groups. In the run up to school and state examinations, students are expected to do extra revision and study.

In view of the time commitments required for homework, the school strongly recommends that students do not hold part time jobs during term time.

USE OF STUDENT JOURNAL IN RELATION TO HOMEWORK:

The student journal, which each student is required to have, is the chief means of communication between school and home in relation to homework. When used correctly, it is also an important aid to students in ensuring that they cover the prescribed homework. It is very important that teachers, students and parents/guardians ensure that they use the Journal so as to maximise the benefit to the student's education. Teachers will use the Journal to commend good work and consistent effort on the part of students in addition to using it as a channel to inform parents of failure on the part of a student to do homework or to make an honest effort in relation to the satisfactory completion of homework
